

EXPLOSION OF AN AUTOMOBILE

Will Be Feature of "The Girl And The Tramp" Which Will Be Seen Here Saturday Night.

Would the explosion of a real automobile interest you? If you saw a man stealing an automobile, what would you do? Miss Flo Randall, the girl in "The Girl and The Tramp," sees a man stealing her automobile. She pluckily covers him with a gun and calls for help. "Happy Jack" the tramp, comes to her rescue. A quarrel results between Happy Jack and Philip Redman. The tramp is knocked down, Redman jumps into the automobile, pulls the crank and the automobile explodes. This all takes in full view of the audience.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR EWEN BOLIN

Man Who Killed Sam Crawford, of Color, in Breathitt County, To Be Executed.

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 5.—A special term of the Breathitt Circuit Court convened here Monday with Judge Andrew J. Kirk, of Paintsville, Ky., on the bench, as special judge, Judge Redwine being ill. The special term was called for the trial of the case of the Commonwealth vs. Ewen Bolin and George Bolin for the murder of Sam Crawford, of color, last October. The killing occurred about one mile above Jackson and Crawford's son Ora was badly wounded at the same time.

The case was called for trial Monday afternoon and in the absence of Hon. T. C. Johnson, the regular Commonwealth's Attorney, Judge James P. Adams was appointed Commonwealth's Attorney pro tem to conduct the prosecution.

The jury was selected in a few hours and the proof was closed Tuesday. The case was submitted to the jury at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday and at 3 o'clock it returned a verdict fixing the punishment of Ewen Bolin at death.

The trials of the defendants were severed when the case was called, and while the jury was deliberating on the case of Ewen Bolin, a jury was being selected to try his brother George for complicity in the crime and eleven jurors had been accepted when the verdict was returned against Ewen.

The defendant George Bolin then offered to plead guilty to the crime of voluntary manslaughter, to which the Commonwealth agreed on account of the fact that George was the younger of the two brothers and having taken a very little part in the trouble there was some doubt about his conviction.

Ewen Bolin was tried here a few years ago for the murder of Will Bush, but was acquitted, and has since been living a reckless life. He was regarded as a very dangerous character. His brother George has never been in much trouble and is only about 18 years old.

Sentence will be imposed by Judge Kirk within the next day or two and the date for the execution of Ewen Bolin will then be fixed, which will conclude the business of the special term and Judge Kirk will return to his home.

The citizens here speak in high praise of the fair, able and impartial way in which Judge Kirk conducts his courts.

JULIAN STAFFORD COMMITTS SUICIDE

News of Tragic End of Young Man Who Was in This City Last Thanksgiving.

News of the suicide of Mr. C. Julian Stafford at Memphis, Tenn., has been received here.

Stafford was a handsome young man of pleasing address. He came to this city last Thanksgiving, where he made a favorable impression. For a time he was successful as a solicitor for the enlargement of pictures but finally left town owing several merchants and a board bill at the Gables, on Washington street. He gave a check to Mr. C. H. Bower on the State Bank at Morehead, which was endorsed by Dr. J. N. Rankin, and which was later found to be worthless. Dr. Rankin had a warrant issued for Stafford, but when it was served he paid the amount of the check, and the matter was dropped. He was married on the same afternoon.

He was indicted in the Montgomery Circuit Court on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and was under bond of $500 for his appearance, but when the case was called Stafford was in jail in some other city, and his bond forfeited.

Stafford married Miss Myrtle Riley, daughter of Judge Riley, of Morehead. In spite of his crooked dealings he had many friends won by his attractive smile and pleasant manner, who will regret to hear of his tragic end.

MRS. J. W. SCOBEE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Many Friends of Beloved Winchester Lady Will Anxiously Await Outcome of Operation.

Mrs. J. W. Scobee was taken to Lexington Thursday in a motor car, and is now a patient in the St. Joseph Hospital, where a serious operation will be performed, probably next week.

Mrs. Scobee was accompanied by her husband and daughter, Mrs. Oscar Schmidt, being chauffeured by her son-in-law, Mr. Dick McCormick. Messrs. Scobee and McCormick returned at night, Mrs. Schmidt remaining at the bedside of her mother.

Mrs. Scobee's many friends will anxiously await the outcome of the operation. She is one of Winchester's loveliest ladies and it is hoped she will soon be returned to normal health.

Mr. Chip Ranson has returned to his home in Murfreesboro, Tenn., after a visit in this city.

MRS. LIZZIE E. KISSINGER DIES

Beloved Wife of Squire Ed Kissinger Passes Away at Her Home of Cardiac Asthma.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Kissinger, wife of Squire Ed Kissinger, died Thursday night at 11 o'clock of cardiac asthma. She had been in apparent good health and spirits and her sudden death comes as a cruel blow to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Kissinger was a daughter of James H. Turley, who resided in the Wades Mill neighborhood. She was born on July 13, 1865, and had lived here practically all of her life. Two sons, Messrs. Grinstead and Bybee Kissinger, and one daughter, Miss Polly Kissinger, survive her.

Until recently Squire and Mrs. Kissinger were the efficient keepers of the County Farm, having moved to 517 College street, this city, only a short time ago.

The funeral services will be conducted at the First Methodist church on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Leonidas Robinson, and the burial will take place in the Winchester cemetery. The following will be the pallbearers: Jas. H. Thomson, John C. Thomson, E. B. Dooley, L. B. Cockrell, John C. Sumpter, Prof. D. A. Thomson. Honorary pallbearers: Squire Ben Willis, Judge I. H. Evans, R. R. Perry, J. Scott Renick, Judge J. M. Benton and W. G. Rice.

Mrs. Kissinger was one of the loveliest women in Clark county. Her gentle and gracious manner endeared her to all who knew her. She appeared as an Angel of Mercy to the inmates of the County Farm, ministering with kind hands and loving hearts to all their needs and comforts. Not only to their material welfare was she attentive, but she extended from the depths of her great loving heart a true and tender sympathy and understanding. There is not one of them but who will miss and mourn her as a dear friend and benefactress.

As a wife and mother, she was ever tender, thoughtful and loving. To the bereaved husband; to the young sons; the sweet little daughter and all other relatives and friends, the truest sympathy is extended.

OPERATION IS SUCCESSFUL

Friends of Mrs. Mollie Deatherage Are Rejoiced at Outcome, And Hope For Speedy Recovery.

Mrs. Mollie Deatherage underwent a delicate and serious operation at the Norton Infirmary, Lexington, on Thursday, and a telegram to relatives here states that she is getting on very nicely.

Mrs. Deatherage is the wife of Mr. Sam Deatherage, of Dudley street. She has a host of true friends who have been necessarily alarmed at her condition, and will hear of the successful result of the operation with much pleasure.

It is hoped Mrs. Deatherage will soon be restored to normal health.

THOUSAND WOMEN HAVE DISAPPEARED

From Their Homes in New York City During the Past Year.—No Trace of Them Found.

New York, Jan. 4.—During the year 1911 the New York police were called to the aid of families from which some member had disappeared exactly 3,500 times, and during this time approximately 1,000 women most of them young girls, ranging in age from fourteen to twenty years, have utterly disappeared. Nor does this number cover all the young women who drop out of the world of their own acquaintances suddenly. The police say that not more than half the actual disappearances are formally reported.

"During 1911," says a police official, commenting on the figures, "we have been confronted with hundreds of cases similar in every degree to that of Dorothy Arnold. Many other cases are just as baffling as hers."

"The young girls left absolutely no trace behind. They made no preparations for departure, and few have since been heard from. We maintain a bureau of missing persons especially to carry on this work of search."

"Our investigations show that there are four reasons which cover most of the disappearances: First, severe home restraint; second, extreme poverty; third, theatrical aspirations; fourth, lured away."

BIG FIRE IN LOUISVILLE

Four Hundred Thousand Dollars is The Estimated Loss.—Courier-Journal is a Loser.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 5.—Four hundred thousand dollars is the estimated loss caused by a fire that destroyed three ladies' apparel establishments, damaged the Baldwin Piano Company's store, slightly damaged the Courier-Journal building and caused near-panics in two theatres. At 11:15 o'clock Thursday night the blaze was under control.

The fire started in the store of H. J. Gutman and Company from undetermined cause and soon destroyed the stock there and that of Abe Levi and Company in the same building. It then swept to the four-story establishment of the Swartz Company and then to the Baldwin store. The damage to the latter was mostly from water. The Swartz Company is the heaviest loser.

RELATIONS ARE NOT STRAINED

Between President Taft And Col. Roosevelt, Avoiding to Statement of Chief Executive.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Word was sent broadcast Thursday to supporters of President Taft that under no circumstances would the President countenance attacks on Col. Theodore Roosevelt, no matter what the ultimate intention of Mr. Roosevelt in regard to the Republican Presidential nomination might be.

It was said Thursday that the President has expressed himself as being at a loss to account for reports that relations between him and Col. Roosevelt were seriously strained.

ECKHOFF MAY BE IN INDIANAPOLIS

Every Effort Made to Hide Whereabouts of Man Wanted Before Federal Grand Jury.

Indianapolis, Jan. 5.—Though every effort was made by detectives Thursday to hide the whereabouts of Frank Eckhoff, of Cincinnati, it is understood he was in this city and ready to appear before the federal grand jury to tell his story about men alleged to have been associated with John J. and James B. McNamara and Orrie E. McManigal in dynamiting depredations over the country.

Eckhoff, confidante of John J. McNamara, and a neighbor of the McNamara family in Cincinnati, has been for weeks guarded by detective William J. Burns' assistants against contact by persons alleged to be interested in sealing his lips.

BREEDERS TO ASK LEGISLATURE'S AID

Kentucky Association Holds Interesting Session at Lexington.—Splendid Program is Rendered.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—The third day's program of Farmers' Week in convention here at the Agricultural building, State University, was devoted to the Kentucky Beef Cattle Breeders' Association. The principal business transacted, outside of the regular program, was the adoption of a resolution asking the Legislature for an appropriation of $10,000, to be given the Experiment Station for investigation in regard to feeding experiments in the production of beef, pork and mutton.

The meeting, which was an enthusiastic one and well attended, was opened at 9 o'clock at Agricultural Hall when a splendid program was rendered.

The association also held a meeting at night when the officers for the year were elected.

W. B. HALDEMAN ADJUTANT GENERAL

Appointed by Governor Willson to Succeed Gen. P. P. Johnston, of Fayette County.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5.—Col. W. B. Haldean, of Louisville, editor of the Louisville Times, and formerly a Colonel in the First Regiment, Kentucky National Guard, was Thursday afternoon appointed Adjutant General of Kentucky by Gov. McCreary to succeed Gen. P. P. Johnston, of Fayette county.

NO OFFICIAL INFORMATION

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—Major J. Tandy Ellis, author, soldier, political campaigner and well known as one of the best story-tellers in Kentucky, said Thursday night that he had no official information in regard to his appointment as Assistant Adjutant General.

The first he had heard of it, he said, was the story which The Louisville Times published Thursday. Colonel Haldean is the editor of The Times, and it was supposed by friends of the Governor that, as a compliment to Colonel Haldean his newspaper was permitted to make the first announcement of the appointment.

Ellis Called to Frankfort
Major Ellis went to Frankfort Friday to call on the Governor, having been summoned there by the executive, and the call probably relates to the appointment.

Major Ellis served with distinction during the troublous times of the miners' strike in Western Kentucky and is one of the most prominent officers in the State militia. For several years he has been connected with the Burley Tobacco Society and rendered valuable service for the Democratic ticket during the campaign last November, speaking with Governor McCreary in a number of counties. He is "a Democrat both by birth and instinct," as he puts it. Captain J. R. Sams and Lieutenant Marshall Combs said Thursday night that the appointment of Colonel Haldean would meet with the general approval of the officers and men in the National Guard of Kentucky. As head of the First Regiment Colonel Haldean made that regiment famous for its efficiency, they said.

Canton, O., Jan. 5.—It is announced Thursday that Mrs. Day, wife of William R. Day, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, who has been seriously ill for several months past, has taken a turn for the worse. Friends believe that dissolution may come at any moment.

Justice Day has been with her constantly during her illness. By special agreement with the Chief Justice, who called on him here just before the Supreme Court took up the work of the fall session, Justice Day did not go to Washington, as both he and the Chief Justice felt it was his duty to remain with Mrs. Day.

"A GIRL OF THE MOUNTAINS"

Parker's four act society drama "A Girl of The Mountains," which comes to the Winchester Theatre on Thursday, January 11. It is not too much to say that O. E. Wee's production embodies all, moreover, "A Girl of The Mountains" is backed by a company of more than ordinary merit and a full scenic equipment is carried.

Mr. George Stapleton has returned to the Bingham Military Institute at Asheville, N. C.

MR. NICHOLS OF FAYETTE.

Discussing the attempt of the Lexington and Fayette county Democratic Committee to "instruct" Representative C. B. Nichols how to cast his vote in the race for Speaker

the Louisville Evening Post expresses our sentiments exactly when it says:

"There was one comparatively isolated incident connected with the election of Mr. Claude Terrell as

Speaker of the Kentucky House that deserves to be remembered in the election over that fortunate ever.

"For some years past the Democratic Representatives and Senators

from Lexington and Fayette county have, with few exceptions, acted as allies of the Third House, and have set their faces like flint against every reform demanded by the people but opposed by the special interests.

"Contented for a season Lexington

has of late been growing impatient.

The present county officers are Fusionists, the Circuit Judge is a Republican. At the last election Mr.

Tunis, a Fusionist, who will support

the county unit bill, was, to the great satisfaction of the State, elected

State Senator over Mr. T. A. Combs,

the Democratic incumbent.

"In Fayette county outside of

Lexington Mr. C. B. Nichols, a Democrat was elected to the House and a few days ago a horrid rumor became prevalent among Lexington politicians, namely, that Mr. Nichols proposed to cast his own vote and would support Mr. Terrell for Speaker.

"The dispatches from Lexington

last week told the next chapter in this little story. Mr. William Klair paused long enough from his strenuous duties as Railroad Commissioner to come hurriedly to Lexington. The "Democratic" committee of Lexington was called together and Mr. Nichols was "instructed" to vote against Mr. Terrell and to support Mr. Schobert.

"Only one thing remains to be said.

Mr. Nichols decided to abide by his own conscience and the platform of his party. The roll calls at Frankfort show that he voted for Mr. Terrell upon every ballot and contributed in no small degree to the latter's success. Good for Mr. Nichols, and Fayette county. He wears the colors of no man and Fayette county has reason to be proud of her Representative."

DOOM IS SOUNDED FOR PRISON BOARD

Republican Minority in House And Senate to Support the Governor.
—In Fight on Commission.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5.—It was stated Thursday morning that State Chairman Prewitt will call a joint caucus of the General Assembly for Tuesday evening next, when the first ballot has been taken in the two houses on that date, electing Willie James to the United States Senate.

This caucus will be for the purpose of nominating a member of the Prison Commission and a State Librarian. The caucus may determine not to choose a candidate for Prison Commission until the assembly shall have passed upon the recommendations of Gov. McCreary with reference to removing the State prisons from politics.

The Republican minority in the Senate and House is quickly falling in line for the Governor's recommendation for a bi-partisan Board of Prison Commissioners, and it is probable that the administration bill
on this subject will receive the unanimous support of the minority.

MORE TROUBLE IN SCHOOL BOARD

At Marion, Ohio, in Spite of Hope
That Women Members Would Stop Wrangling.

Marion, O., Jan. 4.—For years the Marion School Board of Education has been notorious in school circles
throughout Ohio because of its numerous deadlocks and constant wrangling. Last fall all Marion, it would appear by the enormous vote cast, rose up in wrath and smote
the men candidates for re-election.

Mrs. A. J. Whiting and Mrs. Jeannette Lammers Hutchison, clubwomen, were elected to the board, and it was said that their influence would end the wrangling. The unexpected has happened, however, and the two women are at odds, with the result that the board is now apparently hopelessly deadlocked on the election of a clerk. Mrs. Hutchison is a candidate against Clerk H. Edmund Hill, who, besides serving one term as President, has been clerk
three years.

By Mrs. Whiting voting for Mrs.
Hutchison the deadlock would be broken, but she refuses to desert Hill. Expressions of disgust are heard on every side.

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair

that will so surely promote hair growth as will Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. To prove that statement, we promise to promptly return all the money you pay us for Rexall "93"
Hair Tonic, should it not please you.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic destroys the germs which are usually respon-

the roots of the hair, stimulating and, by promoting circulation, nourishing them.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic helps to relieve scalp irritation, to remove dandruff, to prevent the hair from falling out, and to promote an increased growth of hair. It comes

ROBBERS ESCAPE WITH JEWELRY

Three Men Stole Nearly $1,000
From Front Show Window of Newark Shop.

Newark, O., Jan. 4.—Breaking into F. J. Pratt's jewelry store, in the Young Men's Christian Association Building. Wednesday night, three men stole nearly $1,000 worth of diamond rings and other jewels from the front show window. They made their escape with the booty.

A woman passing the store shortly before 9 o'clock, before Pratt had removed the display of stock from the window for the night, saw a man behind the window placing the jewelry in an oiled sack. Two other men were standing guard on Third street, in front of the store. The woman called the attention of a passerby and then screamed.

This frightened the robber, who dashed out of the store and down an alley, while the two confederates
made a hurried get-away.

Mr. Pratt cannot tell definitely what was stolen, but he places the loss at approximately $1,000.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

CHILDREN IN COAL MINES.

By A. W. MACY.

It seems incredible that within the last seventy-five years little children were employed in the coal mines of England and often treated no better than work-animals, yet such was the case. In 1842 a parliamentary commission reported that in many mines it was common for children to begin work underground at seven years old. In some they began at six, and in a few instances as early as five years old. One extreme case was reported where children were worked "as low as four years old," and "so young they had to be brought to work in their bed-gowns." In another case, the report said, "Children are sometimes brought to the pit at the age of six years, and are taken out of bed at four o'clock." The working day was from 14 to 16 hours. The ventilation in nearly all the mines
was bad, and the drainage worse. The children were made to "draw loads by means of a girlie and chain, going on all-fours, often "through avenues not so good as a common sewer,
quite as wet, and oftentimes more contracted." The report aroused general indignation and resulted not only in excluding children from mines, but in revolutionizing labor conditions
generally in England.

SCIENCE AND INVENTION

NEW LIFE SAVING APPARATUS

Attachment Prevents Burning of Rope
Shot From Gun—Does Not Interfere With Flight.

Just at this season of the year the life saving apparatus is very much in the limelight and the attachment for life saving guns invented by a New York man is of especial interest.
Those who have seen these guns on the beach at coast resorts will recall that they are cannon with an adjustable range that shoot out rods to one end of which is attached an end of a coil of rope contained in a receptacle
at their side. The heat of the blast, however, has been known to set fire

to the lifeline with the result that it did not reach its destination. The attachment here shown consists of a long fireproof joint that connects the end of the missile in the gun with the free end of the rope, engaging both with a series of elastic loops that allow such perfect freedom of movement as not to interfere in the slightest with the flight of the missile.

PRESSING IRONS ARE HANDY

Crease Made in Trousers by Drawing
Edge Between Them—Bother
With Tailor Eliminated.

A New York genius has designed a pair of pressing irons that make a man independent of the tailor after his clothes are made. They are also handy for persons traveling who want to preserve a natty appearance. The irons are two hollow box-like affairs mounted on handles, which have spring holding frames. Normally the irons are together, but when the handles are pressed together they open. The edge of a pair of trousers is then placed between them and they are drawn the length of the trouser leg, imparting as fine a crease as any tailor can give with the old-style iron.

This new implement is heated by electricity and has an attachment therefor at one end. All the traveler need to do is hitch it up to the electric fix-ture in his hotel room and press his trousers in a few minutes. It will also press other garments or flat
goods excellently.

Low Temperature on Fish.

M. Pictet, the French scientist, has been conducting some experiments to ascertain the effect of low temperature on fish and animals. He has been at work on this subject at times for 18 years, and he finds that with all the animals with which he has experimented the common snail can withstand the greatest amount of cold. He has subjected them to a temperature of 120 degrees C. below freezing point,
and then nursed them back to an active life. As a rule fish will withstand a temperature of 20 degrees;
below this they are killed. At 20 degrees the body of the fish is as brittle as ice itself and may be broken as a piece of ice, but after being thawed out the fish as lively as before their frigid experience.

Sawdust Briquetted.

Sawdust is briquetted by several firms in Europe for household fuel.
Sawdust briquets, while almost easily ignited as wood, burn much more slowly, owing to their having been compressed so highly in the making.
This is an advantage, as the fire does not need replenishing so often.

New Source of Rubber.

A factory is to be started on the Thames at Barking, for the extraction of rubber from the latex of the Thucalli trees which are so prolific in Natal.

COURT UNABLE TO FINISH HEARING

Of Eshelby Suit—Defense Wins Points.—Objections to Questions As to Night Riders Are Sustained by Bench.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 5.—Three witnesses were examined Thursday in the E. O. Eshelby case against the Burley Tobacco Society, and when court adjourned at 5:30 p. m., it was announced that the trial will proceed until the end of Friday's session, and will then go over until next week as Saturday is motion day in Judge Hollister's court.

Secretary J. M. Rankin of the Burley Society, was kept on the stand the greater part of the day Thursday, the other witnesses examined being William P. Reed, of the Lazarus Tobacco Company, of Richmond, Va., and Geo. William Jones, secretary of the United States Tobacco Company at Richmond.

Rankin Reads Minutes

Secretary Rankin was required to read from the minutes of the Burley Society's various actions taken at various times by the Executive Committee in an attempt to show that the society is a monopoly and in restraint of trade under the Sherman anti-trust law. The lawyers for the plaintiff made but little progress in this direction and at the end of the day's session the attorneys of the Burley Society felt that the battle so far has been decidedly in their favor.

Tells of Winchester Sales

Mr. Reed told all about the sale of the 1907 tobacco at Winchester and the part he and other representatives of the independents took in it.

The agreement of the independents in the allotment of the tobacco after it was purchased, was a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

Mr. Jones, the plaintiff's attorney, endeavored to show that the tobacco had been sold out of the state.

Part of Minutes

It became known Thursday that the minutes of meetings held by the society between March and August, 1908, are missing.

Secretary Rankin testified that he did not know where the records were. Rankin read reports of the society's meetings and told how at one session resolutions were passed condemning the use of violence, by "Night Riders."

Lawrence Maxwell, who examined the witness, tried to bring out further details about the "Night Riders" resolutions whereupon Judge A. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, one of the attorneys for the Burley Society, entered an objection. He said the society had nothing to do with the "Night Riders." Judge Hollister sustained the objection.

What the Minutes Told

The minute books stated that at one time $600,000 was held in Brown county, Ohio, through the sale of pooled tobacco. Maxwell asked why the minutes said this money had not been distributed, and Rankin replied that he presumed payments had not been ordered by the District Board of the society.

Attorneys for the Burley Society again objected and Rankin's answer was stricken from the court record.

The Eshelby Company is suing the society for $588,795 damages, charging that it was a trust and forced the price of tobacco to exorbitant figures.

Alfred Casset is one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, while the law firm of which his father-in-law, Governor Harmon, of Ohio, is a member, is associated in the defense.

WARED HEM POSSIBLE

EXTREME STYLE IS THREATENED FOR THE SKIRT.

Fashion May Be Followed, but Is Not Likely to Be Very Popular—Some French Styles in Simple Materials.

The dress shows recently given by the prominent shops of the country made a futile effort to introduce a number of the most foolish ideas. One frock seen, a slip of sea green satin for evening use, was topped by a short, perfectly round chiffon tunic, wired at the bottom to look exactly like a lamp shade. The resemblance was made further striking through the fact that a deep chenille fringe was used at the bottom of the tunic, and so when the model walked about with her fingers she looked for all the world like an uneasy lamp. Her stiffened tunic wobbled this way and that, and those who saw could only laugh at the spectacle. Another absurdity that pervaded numerous evening and reception gowns was a narrow panel, perfectly straight and scarcely six inches wide, this going at the back of the dresses, from the shoulders, half way down, or beginning at the waist. Black panels were used on several pure white dresses.

The ultimate outcome of these small changes is inevitable; we shall soon be wearing wide skirts, skirts, by and by, with wired hems perhaps. All ready there are looped draperies, tor fixings that go above a skimp plain skirt pretty much in the manner of hoopskirts days, or there are funny swirls of decking that wind round and round the skirt after the manner of the ribbons of the barber's pole.

Meanwhile, with a fair amount of money and tolerable taste, one can find styles and materials that are enhancing to the highest degree. It is only necessary to take one's wits along when doing the buying. The illustration presents the sort of style suited to the very slim woman with sloping shoulders, narrow hips and thin arms. A pretty striped silk in blue and gray is used for the frock, gray chiffon beaded with blue being used for the gathered tucker and bertha fall. The flounced sleeves are of the same chiffon and the gumples and close undersleeves of a simple white lace.

In the absence of a suitable dress for a smart Thanksgiving occasion this gown could be quickly copied. Far cheaper fabrics could be employed, and if the color is carefully chosen and the frock nicely made it would look quite as well as a grander costume. In truth, it is only necessary to examine French clothes for a little while to see that these apparently foolish people—in the matter of eccentric clothes—also have the best sense in the way of dress economies. At the aforementioned shows were seen house gowns in such simple fabrics and so lightly trimmed that they seemed almost countrified beside the others. For example, there was a little robe for house wear of old rose cashmere, with only a wide silk ribbon in the same color put at the under-side of the drapery to show at a point with the looping. With other little frocks of silk and light wool the gumples and undersleeves were of plain white mull run only with dainty hand tucks. Then cotton gowns were frequently employed for the reproduction of one of the high-priced frocks.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

MISS GEORGIA SLEDD IS A CANDIDATE

For The Democratic Nomination For Superintendent of Schools of Montgomery County.

St. Sterling, Ky., Jan. 5.—Miss Georgia Sledd, for years associated with the St. Sterling Collegiate Institute in this city, has announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination for superintendent of schools of Montgomery county, and will push her canvass from now until the primary to select the candidates. Miss Sledd is a daughter of Deputy Sheriff William Sledd and is one of the best known teachers in the county. The present superintendent, M. C. Goodwin, has also announced as a candidate for re-election.

James W. White and Frank Norton, who are opposing candidates for sheriff, have formed a combination, White taking the chief deputyship, and putting William Cravens, who was to be White's deputy, out of the running. As a result there is a lot of "howling" among Cravens' friends and they are insisting on his getting in the race for sheriff.

IS RE-APPOINTED CITY SOLICITOR

Both Boards of Newly Organized General Council Unanimously Endorse Cassidy's Choice, J. Embry Allen.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 5.—The General Council convened for its first session of 1912 Thursday night, and confirmed the appointment of Mayor J. E. Cassidy of Colonel J. Embry Allen to succeed himself as City Solicitor, elected Mr. John H. Gilbert Marketmaster, by a vote of 12 to 8, ending a fight of more than a month. The boards organized by the re-election of Messrs. K. G. Pulliman and James T. McCarty, as president of the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Councilmen respectively. A brief message from Mayor Cassidy was also read.

The appointment of a City Solicitor has been exciting a great deal of interest lately, and several candidates were named by would-be prophets, but no hint came from the Mayor as to who would be appointed until Thursday night.

Appointment Meets Approval.
The appointment of Colonel Allen was generally approved among those who discussed it Thursday night. Colonel Allen has been City Solicitor for the past four years and has filled the place to satisfaction of the public. The position is one of great responsibility, and Colonel Allen has made an excellent record in defending the city in suits and prosecuting actions for the city, as well as systematizing in an excellent manner the routine work of the office.

He has had such experience in the work that he is probably better fitted on that account for the place than is any other attorney in the city. The vote on the confirmation of the appointment of Colonel Allen was unanimous in both boards.

O'Neill Guyn Assistant.
Mayor Cassidy also sent with his approval the appointment of City Engineer J. White Guyn of P. P. O'Neill as Assistant City Engineer, which was confirmed by unanimous vote as was also the appointment of Mrs. Ida W. Harrison to succeed herself as a member of the Board of Library Trustees.

In his appointment of Colonel Allen, Mayor Cassidy made it plain that the appointment is for one year only, owing to the adoption of the Commission Form of Government which is to go into effect at the expiration of that time. While Mr. Allen accepted the appointment, he refused to express himself as to the ousting of the present city officials from the offices at the end of that time.

SOLVES A DEEP MYSTERY.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c. at The Winchester Drug Company.

DEPARTMENT IS POLITICAL MACHINE

Norris Bill is Expected to Receive The Approval of The Democratic House.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Asserting that the Postoffice Department has become a huge political machine, Congressman Norris, a Nebraska insurgent, introduced a bill in the House Thursday to place every employee of that department, except the Postmaster General, under the competitive classified service. Following his recent speech in Washington, in which he declared that Republican State committees consist of Federal officeholders, Mr. Norris stated Thursday that a "Republican convention nowadays sounds like a list of second-class postmasters, and every State committee has postoffice employees for about two-thirds of its membership."

The Norris bill is expected to receive the approval of the Democratic House, which is already contemplating an investigation of the postoffice political machine.

The bill also provides for the transfer of employees from one postoffice to another in making promotions.

Congressman Saunders, of Virginia, now has a resolution pending asking for the investigation of the activity of postmasters. The Virginia member makes the charge that numerous postmasters in his state and elsewhere are neglecting their official duties because of outside business or political connections.

BOGUS ANTIQUES.

'Acks of the Crafty Italian Forgers of Old Curios.

There are dealers in curios, a crafty set of tradesmen, all over Europe, but it is in Italy that they have carried the art of deceit and forgery, the substitution of modern products for ancient, to the apex of perfection. Verona, Venice, Siena and Rome swarm with shops in which lurk these dealers in the antique, and they are keen to spot any American that may pass their way. Next to the American in gullibility is the Englishman, but he does not so freely give up his money.

Sir James Yoxall, the English connoisseur, thus describes one of these dealers: "He knew how to crackle new ivories by boiling them like eggs, how to cook new pictures in the oven, how to smoke new prints and how to green new bronzes with nitrate of potassium. It was so amusing to see the things age in a minute! He would bring a new earthenware dish out of the oven, burning hot, and plunge it into cold oil; result, contraction, chill-chillblains, so to speak—and the enamel all cracked into the wrinkles of age. And then he would rub the surface upon a dirty paving stone till signs of wear and tear appeared that might outwit anybody."

"As for pictures, it was easy to find an old canvas or an old panel for a Lorenzo. It was when the artist's work was over that the real science and art began—first of all, a wash of varnish that had been colored with sepia; next, on the more raised portions, rubbings with licorice juice to attract the flies. He could even imitate fly marks with India ink. A few drops of salty water left on the canvas would produce moldiness and mildew. A needle deftly used would cover the picture with a network of cracks."

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

Classed as a Tavern and Has the Right to Retail Beer.

In the census records of the city of London the Bank of England is classed as a tavern.

This is because it has the right in common with some other old established city businesses to sell beer by retail. The power to do this was granted it by charter under the great seal in 1694, and it has never been taken away from it.

The bank could therefore, if it chose, start in business as a public house tomorrow, or it could send round a special "Bank of England brand" of, say, bottled stout, delivered in its own drays at your door, with a facsimile of the chief cashier's signature on the label of each bottle as a guarantee of purity.

The dean and chapter of St. Paul's cathedral can also lay claim to a similar privilege, with the right, in addition, to brew their own beer. Paul's brew house formerly stood at the corner of the entrance to Doctor's commons from the churchyard, and an average of between 60,000 and 70,000 gallons of "strong ale" were brewed there every year.

The sale of this, however, was confined to the cathedral precincts. They must have been thirsty souls, those old time ecclesiastics. But, then, it must be remembered that in those days tea and coffee were unknown and beer was drunk at every meal. Even very little children had their allowance, two quarts a day, sent up to the nursery regularly each morning from the buttery below.—Pearson's Weekly.

Trade in Skeletons.

The principal center for the distribution of articulated skeletons for purposes of study by the medical profession is in Paris, from which point they are shipped to every part of the globe. The price of a well mounted articulated skeleton varies from $50 to $300. This difference has little to do with the condition of the subject while alive. In the cheap skeletons only the barest framework is offered, but in the expensive specimens every detail is worked out with sedulous care, and often both the nervous and the circulatory systems are shown.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A Preference.

"After all," said Mrs. Oldenast as they were returning from the picture gallery to the drawing room, "I think my preference is for Botticelli."

"Well," replied her hostess, "I can't say that mine is. For me it doesn't seem that there's anything to beat good old fashioned raspberry jam."

Quick Work.

"That editor is terribly slow at reading manuscript."

"Think so? Why, I know the time he went through twelve stories in less than a minute."

"Gracious! When was that?"

"When the elevator broke."—Philadelphia Press.

Appropriate to the Occasion.

"My tailor always has a touch of the appropriate in his work."

"Yes; I've known him to press mourning suits with sadirons."—Baltimore American.

Fitting Procedure.

If you want money, go to strangers. If you want advice, go to friends. If you want nothing, go to relations.—Lippincott's.

Where He Went.

"Did the prisoner go beyond well defined ethical bounds in his defense?"

"Nope. He just went to jail."—Exchange.

AVERAGE WEIGHT OF BRAIN

Professor Frederick W. Mott Gives Difference Between Savages and Races Long Civilized.

Professor Frederick W. Mott, lecturing before the Royal Institution of Great Britain on "The Brain," said that although in 88 per cent. of the cases in which the brains of great men had been weighed the weight was above the average, brain weight itself did not always mean brain quality.

When there was lack of the functioning tissue, the lecturer explained, the structural material might receive more than its normal share of nourishment and the extra weight be due to overgrowth of "brain scaffolding." This accounted for the very large and heavy brains sometimes found in congenital idiots. Pointing out that the brain weight of a race long civilized surpassed that of aborigines, the lecturer stated that where as the ordinary European hospital patient had a heavier brain than a savage, the Chinese coolie laborer's brain, developed by centuries of use, weighed 1½ ounces more than that of the European hospital patient.

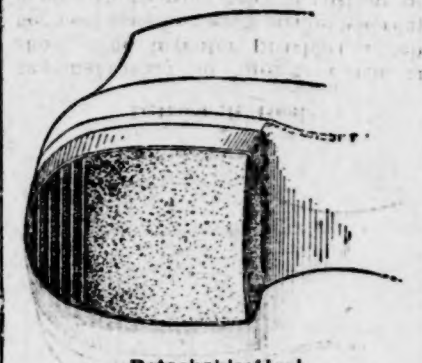

Referring to the relative brain weights of Caucasian men and women, Professor Mott said that the female brain had a good start, weighing nearly 1½ ounces more than the male brain at birth. In adult life, however, the average man's brain weighed about 5½ ounces more than the woman's.

The average weight of the European male brain is 2 pounds 15 ounces 9 drams to 2 pounds 16 ounces 9 drams, and of the female brain 2 pounds 10 ounces 14 drams. Among savages there was not this difference, since in the struggle for existence the female had to apply her brain as fully as the male, hence it was developed at practically the same rate.

RUBBER HEEL IS DETACHABLE

Device Is Adaptable Where Desired at Different Times and Its Removal at Others.

The Scientific American illustrates and describes a rubber heel, recently invented by Andrew W. Carlson of Spokane, Wash. This invention comprehends a rubber heel of a peculiar conformation adapted for removable engagement with the heel of a boot or shoe. The inventor provides a rubber heel together with means whereby it may be securely held in position on the heel, a rubber heel being provided with an extending engaging means whereby it may be positioned on the heel. A perspective view is given in the illustration, showing the heel in position with the fastening means. The device is adaptable for use in cases where one may desire the rubber heel at some times during the day and its removal at another time. The fastening means comprises a bent number having inwardly extending portions and it is formed of resilient metal.

Temperature of Hats.

The inside temperature of men's hats was among the interesting illustrations at the Dresden Hygienic exposition. In the sun, with an external temperature of 96.3 degrees F., the inside of a yacht club cap showed 98.6 degrees; a Prussian helmet, 97.7 degrees; an English cap, 94.1 degrees; a black derby hat, 92.3 degrees; a high silk hat, 89.6 degrees; a soft white felt hat, 86 degrees; a light straw hat, 79.9 degrees; a Panama hat, 77.9 degrees.

NOTES OF SCIENCE AND INVENTION

While Amsterdam is the diamond center of the world, these gems are not generally worn by the natives. Scales for weighing diamonds are so delicate and sensitive that the weight of an eyelash will turn the balance.

Tests appear to show that the wind will carry disease-breeding bacteria 200 feet, and even 60 feet during rainfall.

Ingenious tackle has been devised to make a tree that is being felled pull its own stump from the ground with it.

The handwriting of a people varies from age to age. The writing of one country may be easily distinguished from that of another.

The most famous bridge in the world, the Bridge of Sighs at Venice, so called because it led the way to a prison, was built in 1589.

A new doll that its inventor claims is indestructible is made of properly shaped block of wood, joined by spring steel swivels and hinges.

Thimbles must have been in use among the ancient Romans, since specimens have been unearthed amid the ruins of Herculaneum, in Italy.
